Dear Ed, 10/7/93

Thanks for the 10/4 and enclosures. Wheslock did send me a copy of that CNN transcript and I'm using is so I can cut the second one up and tape to the ms. and that save me time and reduces the hazard from my typing.

If you think there is enough to needle Posner over his making no mention of what you had and offered him and if the copying is not too extensive, I'll appreciate copies. I do not recall his mentioning that school. But I also do not remember where he referred to Oswald's learning Russian.

There is something I'd like done in standard sources but I doubt they will be available there. If you have available Who's Who in New York going back to about 1980 and the same for Contemporary Authors and any other such directories and the legal directory, Martindale, Hubbell and can take a little time, please let me know.

I'm tired and I do not remember as well but I think I did highlight something in the Penthouse article to use. I put those things I think I can use in file folders by subject so I do not have to remember them.

I've already made one use of that CNN stuff and plan at least one more elsewhere.

Again thanks, and best wishes,

Harold
